Die Laughing are a performance group dedicated to bringing murder and mayhem to your event - with daft storylines designed to entertain as much as mystery.

In fact, we're often accused of first-degree humourcide!

We can create plots tailored to your requirements, or you can pick from themes including:

Robin Hood and his Merry Menace

A Dickens of a Mystery

Henry VIII - Anne gets Cleaved

Mafia Murder - an Offer You Can't Refuse

The Corpse wore an Anorak (a Nerd-er Mystery!)

MURDER MYSTERY ENTERTAINMENT FOR CORPORATE AND PRIVATE CLIENTS

Why Choose Die Laughing?

- Our team have vast experience of both theatrical improvisation and comedy performance - murder mysteries are, after all, designed to be entertaining above all else!
- Each event has a representative assigned to work with you, ensuring that the package is well suited to your requirements.
- Our experiences are enhanced with professionally produced complementary materials that strengthen the theme of the evening - from posters advertising fictitious events, to physical "evidence" of dark deeds and wrongdoing!
- We're fun to work with!

How We Work

- Our performers dress in appropriate costume for the plot or theme - you can encourage your guests to do the same if you wish!
- We do not work to a script. The characters have their backstories, motives and arguments worked out beforehand but the action during the event is mainly improvised - allowing full interaction!
- Solution forms are filled in by the guests, with prizes for the most accurate and most amusing solutions!

A Typical Event

- Our team of actors arrive at the venue before the guests.
- Shortly after your guests have gathered, the performers mingle in character and introduce themselves.
- As the guests sit down to eat, one of the team will make a more formal speech - that will ruffle a few feathers with the other characters!
- Throughout the evening, our performers will move from table to table, interacting with guests, dropping clues and arguing with other characters - we don't promise a performer will be spared a slap!
- After the first course a character will be murdered!
- A new character arrives and helps investigations by asking questions and helping the diners along a bit!
- After further opportunities to question the suspects, we leave the guests to fill in their sheets and solve the mystery!
- We appraise the forms, pick the winner and unmask the killer after dessert!
