

Bespoke scriptwriting and creative services

If you are after tailor-made material for your business – be it a voiceover script, a short play to reinforce a training message or simply something silly for your staff party, then talk to TLC Creative with your requirements!

Voiceovers

Scriptwriting, voice talent, and through our connections with Sound-Board studios (www.sound-board.com), recording, editing and mixing.

Scripts

Material for adverts, training, seminars or for performance in-house as a bit of fun.

Graphic Design

All of our creative work can be enhanced with our graphic design skills.

Performance

Need versatile and skilled performers for role play, training, events and entertainment? We can deliver!

"TLC Creative devised, wrote, performed and recorded the audio scripts for two completely different animatronic shows which were an important part of our Christmas Display at thecentre:mk. The display has received national acclaim and it is important to us that every element of the show reaches the same high standards. TLC worked closely to the brief but added some real creative flair to produce scripts which worked exceptionally well for young and old alike. With completely original scripts they then performed and recorded these, with the assistance of Sound-Board Productions, and we were delighted with the exceptionally high production values. TLC have been both highly creative and very professional and I would not hesitate to recommend them."
